Tuesday 30th June 2020 – To learn about the Yanomami tribe

Do you think you are different?

Why are you different?

Can you think of anything that is a bit different about you?

Every one of us is different in some way.

These differences make the world interesting and wonderful.

How boring the world would be if everything and everybody were the same.

Task Seven

- Explain that in the Amazon there are many tribes living there. Davi is a boy in the Yanomami tribe – he will tell you about his life in Brazil - he lives a very different life to ours.
- Read Davi's letter.
- Then read Yarima's letter, a girl from the Yanomami tribe.
- Think about your own lives and write down a list of differences between your own lives and those of Yanomami children, based on Davi and Yarima's stories.
